

INVESTOR OVERVIEW · OCTOBER 2026

Six licenses. One rhythm.

Harmonis turns a bar's six music-licensing bills into one predictable weekly or monthly payment, and handles everything in between.

Six licenses. One rhythm.

Every US PRO. One regular payment.

The US has six performing-rights organizations — ASCAP, BMI, SESAC, GMR, AllTrack, and Pro Music Rights — and any of them can bill you on their own schedule. We cover every one, pay them upfront, then you pay us one regular payment — weekly or monthly, your choice.

Same model that fixed commercial insurance: someone pays the lump sum so you don't have to. We just did it for music licensing.

And once you're set up, you're done thinking about it. We track every renewal and rate change, and if anything moves we tell you first. No surprise letters, no chasing agencies yourself, no missed deadline that turns into a fine.

Find out where you stand. 3 questions.

Yes — at least sometimes

No — background only

2. Do you stream from a personal Spotify or Apple Music account?

harmonis.io today: the three-question risk check every venue starts with.

THE PROBLEM

Every bar that plays music owes six different companies.

ASCAP, BMI, SESAC, GMR, AllTrack and Pro Music Rights each license a different catalog, bill on their own schedule, and can come after a venue independently.

WHAT VENUES OWE THE SIX PROS EACH YEAR²$1.5–2K

Small bar / cafe

$3–3.8K

Mid-size, DJ nights

$8–13K+

Live music, 250+ cap

Six bills, six portals

Six contracts, six renewal dates, six account numbers. Most owners don't know all six exist until a letter arrives.

The March gut-punch

PROs bill annually. The lump sum lands next to liquor license, insurance and health permit renewals, often in the same quarter.

Real legal exposure

Playing music without the right license is copyright infringement. Willful infringement can carry statutory damages up to $150,000 per song.¹

Harmonis: one agreement, one predictable payment, and proof of coverage on the owner's phone.

¹ 17 U.S.C. §504(c)(2): up to $150,000 per work infringed for willful infringement, at a court's discretion; actual awards vary.

² Annual PRO obligations by venue profile, from published 2026 rate schedules as shown on harmonis.io/pricing. GMR and Pro Music Rights publish no bar schedule and are estimated.

WHAT HARMONIS IS

One agreement. We handle all six.

The same model that fixed commercial insurance premiums: someone carries the lump sum so the venue doesn't have to. Harmonis does it for music licensing.

STEP 1Quote in minutes

A venue answers plain-English questions. The engine prices every PRO from its own rate schedule.

STEP 2Sign once

One online agreement with a Power of Attorney and Letters of Agency, so Harmonis is the venue's agent with every PRO.

STEP 3We pay the PROs

Harmonis pays the six organizations and owns renewals, rate changes and correspondence.¹

STEP 4One payment, live proof

The venue pays weekly or monthly by bank transfer and keeps a QR-verifiable certificate in its portal.

Old way: six invoices, six portals, a four-figure lump sum, no proof on hand.

With Harmonis: one login, one payment, proof ready if an agent shows up.

¹ Upfront PRO payment is the operating model; it is funded by the working-capital line in the raise and starts when live payments switch on (slide 13).

newly licensed California venues captured automatically since April

Every new liquor license is a venue now on the PROs' radar. The engine pulls California ABC data daily, scores each venue and queues it.

A seven-step outreach sequence is built and attached, with personalized welcome pages per business.¹

Report a licensing discrepancy

For Performing Rights Organizations: if a venue Harmonis represents appears to be using music beyond what its coverage reflects (for example, live music or DJ nights not on file), report it here. Harmonis reviews every report, verifies directly with the venue, and corrects the coverage and billing. We handle the venue relationship end to end.

FOR LANDLORDS & PROPERTY MANAGERS

Turn music-licensing risk into a tenant amenity.

Every bar and restaurant in your buildings owes $2,000–$12,000+ a year to the music licensing organizations — and most are out of compliance without knowing it. Harmonis makes your F&B tenants compliant and painless to bill, so you lower lease risk and add real value to every space.

Partner with us

Why it works for your portfolio

De-risk the lease

Unlicensed music is a real liability — PRO lawsuits and four-figure back-fees hit F&B tenants every year. A covered tenant is a lower-risk tenant.

A tenant amenity that retains

Hand tenants a problem solved on day one. It differentiates your spaces and is one more reason a good operator renews.

Earn referral commission

You earn on every tenant you bring on — recurring, for as long as they stay covered. One introduction, ongoing income.

Zero lift for you

You make the intro; Harmonis handles all six Performing Rights Organizations, the paperwork, and the billing. Nothing lands back on your desk.

PRO dispute desk. If a PRO thinks a venue under-reports its music, it files here. Harmonis verifies, re-prices and keeps the venue relationship.

Honest-usage controls. Venues attest to their usage at signing, and an automatic scan flags venues whose profile suggests live music or DJs.

Partner channel. Landlords, accountants and insurance brokers refer tenants and clients, tracked in a partner portal with commission reporting.

What real venues owe the licensing companies*

These are the annual amounts venues owe the six Performing Rights Organizations directly — from their actual 2026 rate schedules. Your exact number depends on your venue.

Small bar / cafe

Under 100 cap, background music only

$1,500–2,000/yr owed*

Mid-size restaurant

100–250 cap, DJ nights + background music

$3,000–3,800/yr owed*

Large venue / live music

250+ cap, live bands, cover charge

$8,000–13,000+/yr owed*

*Estimated annual totals owed directly to the six PROs, from their published rate schedules — not our fee. Harmonis handles all six for a flat 10% service fee plus $1.99/mo, paid by bank transfer and spread into one predictable payment (no four-figure annual bills). Card payments are coming soon (a 3.5% card surcharge applies). Use our quote calculator for your exact breakdown.

The licensing money passes through to the PROs. Harmonis earns the fee, and the fee grows as PRO rates rise.

¹ Card payments are built and launch with live payments. Pricing verified on harmonis.io/pricing, October 4, 2026.

² Model-derived (docs/financial-projections/model.py): 60/30/10 small/mid/large venue mix priced on the four largest PROs; $200 assumed acquisition cost; 2.5% monthly churn. Fee revenue before payment-processing costs.

Beachhead: Northern California

Sacramento is the home market. California has 34,653 bars and full-service restaurants, about $14M in annual fees at modeled pricing.^{1 2}

Built to scale nationally

Rate engine, local search pages and lead engine are state-agnostic. New states need data feeds and pages, not new software.

Room to expand

The same venue pays liquor, health and insurance fees on annual cycles. One monthly payment for all of them is the longer-term product.

¹ U.S. Census Bureau, County Business Patterns 2022: drinking places (NAICS 722410) 40,258 + full-service restaurants (722511) 257,282. California: 3,279 + 31,374 = 34,653.

² Derived: establishment count × modeled $3,795 average PRO bill, or × ~$404 Harmonis revenue per venue. Upper bound; not every venue plays music or needs all six licenses.

Music licensing for bars in Sacramento, CA.

Sacramento is our home market. Midtown, R Street, the Grid, East Sac, and the regional bar circuit out toward Folsom and Roseville all run live music, DJs, and karaoke nights regularly. California ABC has one of the most active liquor enforcement footprints in the country, and PROs sweep Sacramento on the same routes.

What would a Sacramento bar pay?
